About Employee & Organizational Development

Employee & Organizational Development offers a variety of workshops, programs and consulting services designed to enhance the professional growth and effectiveness of Texas A&M University's employees and workgroups.

About Texas A&M University

From humble beginnings in 1876 as Texas' first public institution of higher learning, to a bustling 5,200-acre campus with a nationally recognized faculty, Texas A&M University is one of a select few universities with land-grant, sea-grant and space-grant designations. With an enrollment of about half men and half women, 25 percent of the freshman class are the first in their family to attend college. Here, 39,000-plus undergraduates and more than 9,400 graduate students have access to world-class research programs and award-winning faculty. Texas A&M has two branch campuses, one in Galveston, Texas, and one in the Middle Eastern country of Qatar.

This research-intensive flagship university with 10 colleges was recently ranked first in the nation by Smart Money magazine for "pay-back ratio" (what graduates earn compared to the cost of their education). The 2011 U.S. News and World Report ranked Texas A&M second nationally in their "Great Schools, Great Prices" category among public universities and 22nd overall. Many degree programs are ranked among the top 10 in the country.

Professional Development

Employees need to continually develop their skills in order to support their organization's success. Employee and Organizational Development (EOD) offers workshops in over fifty topics as well as programs and services designed to enhance professional growth. We can present workshops upon request, and most of our offerings carry Continuing Education Units (CEU's) and Continuing Professional Education (CPE) credits.

Organizational Development

A high-performing work team requires more than just skilled employees. It requires capable leadership, clear goals and sense of purpose, effective work processes, clear communication, employee commitment, and positive work relations. If any of these are out of balance, productivity suffers. Employee and Organizational Development (EOD) can work directly with department and university leaders to assess the needs of a work group and make recommendations for individual and group development. Our organizational development services include:

Coaching

We offer tailored one-on-one coaching to help managers examine their work behavior and style and consider alternatives that may be more effective.

Organizational Assessment

We work with managers to conduct an organizational assessment of overall needs of the department as well context-specific situations. As a result of the assessment, we will provide recommendations for employee education and development, leadership development and other appropriate activities that can help organizations improve performance and work climate.

Facilitation

We facilitate department and work team retreats to promote effective group dynamics and provide structure to help each group make quality decisions and stay focused on its goals. We also facilitate specially scheduled and/or customized versions of our regularly offered workshops to meet the specific needs and context of your organization.

Team Building

We provide guidance for the development of new workgroups and project teams and also offer strategies and activities to improve the effectiveness of existing workgroups.

Requests for Organizational Development Services can be made through the Custom Service Request Form.

Custom Services

Almost any EOD workshop or course can be specifically scheduled or tailored for members of a department or work group.

If you would like to arrange for a workshop or course to be provided exclusively for your work group or organization's staff, please fill out the Customized Service Request Form.

- Please note that special scheduling of workshops and courses is contingent upon availability of the instructor.
- EOD can also provide facilitations, coaching, surveys and assessments, and teambuilding services, which are described under Organizational Development.

Required Training

In accordance with Texas A&M System Regulation 33.05.02, all Texas A&M employees are required to take the courses listed below. Employees may also be required by their department heads and supervisors to complete training based on their job duties.

New Employees

The following courses must be taken within 30 days of hire:

- Orientation to the A&M System
- Creating a Discrimination Free Workplace/EEO
- Ethics
- Reporting Fraud, Waste and Abuse
- Information Security Awareness

Existing Employees

The following courses must be taken at the designated time intervals:

- Every year:
 - Information Security Awareness
- Every two years:
 - Creating a Discrimination Free Workplace/EEO
 - Ethics
- Every four years:
 - Reporting Fraud, Waste and Abuse

Student Employees

The following courses must be taken within 30 days of hire and repeated as indicated:

- Within 30 days of hire:
 - Orientation to the A&M System
 - Creating a Discrimination Free Workplace/EEO (repeated every two years)
 - Ethics (repeated every two years)
 - Reporting Fraud, Waste and Abuse (repeated every four years)

In addition, the Student Employment Office requires new student employees to take the online New Student Employee Orientation found at <https://jobsforaggies.tamu.edu>.

Note: Since all A&M enrolled students are required to take the student version of Information Security Awareness, A&M student employees are not required to complete a second time as an employee. Non-affiliated student employees must take the staff version of the ISA course.

Start Training

Required courses can be taken online using TrainTraq, which is accessed through the Single Sign On system.
